Women Struck by Auto
Believed Dying

One Man Tossed From Car,
Other Run Down

Police Seeking Pair That Abandoned Victim

Two men are dead, two were believed to be dying and one driver was held by police and other men were being sought as a consequence of traffic accident in Los Angeles last night.

George Glavan of 405 South Du man street was thrown out of an automobile at Brooklyn avenue and Lorena street when the machine struck a telephone pole. He fell on his back and received fatal injuries. Two others were riding in the car with him, one the driver, ran, leaving the wrecker which was picked up by Louis Goldschmidt of 222 Yale street and rushed to the Receiving Hospital, but died on the way.

VICTIM NOT SEEN

Thomas Malinian, 119 East Paul man street, Hollywood, was killed when struck by a truck driven by E. W. McIntyre of Burbank who had been driving alone from Beverly Hills to Pacific Grove on Santa Monica Boulevard.

The car carried him two blocks beyond his destination, and he was walking back alone when he was struck. The truck, coming up behind him, apparently ran him down. Mrs. Agnes Hicks of 10 Wilshire Boulevard, was driving along Wilshire when she saw the accident, but the truck driver saw it first, and the truck driver saw it first, but they heard him scream and found his body under the iron fence. The driver of the car was unharmed.

Mrs. Hicks took him to the Memorial Hospital, but he died on the way.

SKULL FRACTURED

Miss Amy Liston of 129 Van Ness street probably will fatally hurt when struck by a machine driven by C. B. Dodd of 221 North Larchmont. She was thrown into the path of a yellow street car, but the man stopped the car within a few feet of her body. She suffered skull fracture and internal injuries. Dodd was held for questioning.

Mrs. Isabel Knapp of 107 North Larchmont was severely injured on October 27 when struck by the machine of Jack Bartlett, 325 Crocker street. She was taken to the covering hospital by Bartlett.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 7.—San Francisco City and County Supervisors, by a vote of 11 to 10, postponed for eight weeks a temporary request to the railroad commission to appraise the value of the San Joaquin distribution system of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company and the Great Western Power Company of municipalities power on the High Sierras Valley. The supervisors voting for the postponement argued that the question of distribution from the city's power plant in San Joaquin valley was not ripe at this time.

ATTACK ASSISTED

Guil Martin, 27 years old, hunted by Los Angeles police during August, after a charge of slaying a 10-year-old girl here, August 25, 1923, was arrested last night in Oakland. He has been held on the grand jury and a search warrant was used in his arrest. He will bring him here for trial.

(Copyright 1924, New York Tribune.)

LONDON, Jan. 8.—Chief interest in today's opening of Parliament centered in the eight women members, five of whom took their seats for the first time, and the 190-odd Labor party representatives, from whose ranks will be supplied the ministers of the first Socialist government Britain has had since the history of the country.

Today's ceremonies were carried out unevenly. The real opening of the session will come a week hence, when the King will read his speech in the House of Lords.

With the exception of Herbert Asquith, who confined himself to his seat with a cold, all the principal figures in British politics gathered today to elect J. H. Whiteley as speaker, a capacity in which he served in the last Parliament, or to act that of chairman of the baron. His election was put through speedily, he being the unanimous choice of all parties. There followed the usual speeches by Premier Baldwin, Ramsay Macdonald and Lloyd George.

MEMBERS ARRIVE EARLY

Most of the members who were elected to the Commons last December appeared at Westminster today, in a number of meetings, in preparation for the opening of the session, which is to be held on January 11.

The scene was much similar to that at the reopening of a school year, when the pupils sat beneath the pulpit and a strain of deep seriousness, because every member appreciated the extremely critical nature of the period of peace which English political life is about to enter.

Historic Westminster was apparently much more merry and gay than usual, though the cold, dull, rainy winter's day, but although Mr. Manderson received a rousing cheer from his supporters for his work in the cause of peace opposite to the government, one he probably will occupy a fortnight hence, and although Premier Baldwin was received with unusual warmth by his Conservative colleagues, the House seemed to be under a certain restraint.

ENTHUSIASM CURED

Perhaps the uncertainty of the future, the possibility of another general election fight within a few months and the probability of votes over highly contentious legislation served to temper the enthusiasm of the Parliamentarians. Furthermore, the Labor party members argued that the question of distribution from the city's power plant in San Joaquin valley was not ripe at this time.

NEVER HEARD OF BOK PLAN

Iowa Senator Thought it was Measure Passed by State Legislators

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
DES MOINES (Iowa) Jan. 8.—A local newspaper interviewed members of the Iowa Legislature, in session at the State Capitol here, yesterday, on their attitude toward the winning Bok plan.

"Senator," one legislator was asked, "what do you think of the Bok peace plan?"

The Senator looked up blankly for a moment, then rose to the emergency.

"Oh," he explained, "I wasn't here when they passed that."

That before long the United States will again enter the phase of this cycle which calls for the offering of rewards for the discovery of new mineral deposits that have ever been found to date, in order to keep pace with the ever-growing consumption."

Report Shows British Ignore Gambling Law

BY GAMES AND ASSOCIATED PRESS
LONDON, Jan. 8.—Millions of Britons habitually break the law by betting in the streets, says the report of the government's committee on betting, made public today. From a perusal of the report it would seem that the liquor laws in America were observed much more generally than the statutes against horse-race betting in Great Britain, nor have the bookmakers organized their business so thoroughly as the unlicensed bookies here.

The committee learned that in some places school children 12 or 13 years of age place their weekly allowances on the horses regularly, while their mothers and the domestic servants in their homes are the chief bettors, especially during the husband's absence by canvassing agents for bookmakers.

OIL CONCERN'S BONDED INDEBTEDNESS LARGER

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—The Associated Oil Company of California today filed with Secretary of State Jordan a notice of increase of its bonded indebtedness from $106,000 to $24,000. No reason for the increase is given in the notice, but presumably it is for development purposes.

VAIL OUTLINES NEW IMMIGRATION PLAN

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Declaring that the United States had determined to no longer a dumping ground for undesirable aliens, Representative William N. Vail of Colorado, member of the House Committee on Immigration, told the Women's National Republican Club today that restriction of immigration was favored by every woman in the country. The committee is working on a plan, he said, whereby the total number admitted will not be enlarged, but will remove objectionable features of the present law.

Yank Golf Pros to Make Another Invasion of England

LEADING STARS PLAN JOURNEY

Sarazen Declares Intention of Going Abroad

American Association Avoils Conflict of Dates

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Several leading golf professionals in the East and West, including Jim Barnes, California, today announced their intention of making another golf invasion of England this season, now that the United States Golf Association has avoided conflict in the holding of the two national fixtures by moving forward to June 5 the date for the opening of the American open championship.

Long Jim Barnes, at the Palms Country Club, announced he expected to make another expedition abroad this season, and Cyril Walker, professional at the Encino Woods, Los Angeles, one of the leading stars of the country, let it be known he also intends to seek foreign honor this season.

Barnes, who has won the American trophy, although he failed by one stroke to qualify for the English championship at Troon, June 5 last, wired that he will compete in the English classic this year.

Jock Hutchinson was the first American to lift the famous English trophy, and his victory over Andrew's Jock decisively defeated Roger Wethered in an eighteen-hole race. The following year Wethered duplicated Hutchinson's feat.

At Troon last June Hagen partied with the cup to Arthur Havers by the narrow margin of one stroke.

Frankie Garcia Hooks Up With "Dandy" Dillon

Frankie Garcia, recently returned to this city from a two years' sojourn in the East, starts for the first time since his return in the meet against the Hollywood American Legion stadium Friday night. Matchmaker Tom Kennedy has named Dandy Dillon, the popular featherweight, as his opponent.

Garcia, trained in the boxing art under De Witt Van Court, veteran L.A.C. instructor, enjoyed marked success among ranks, winning the Pacific Coast amateur featherweight championship prior to his breaking into the ring. He has been a favorite for himself here in a short while after his first appearance at Vernon as a "masked marvel," he left for the East, where he had success there for the past two years.

Ray Peltier, the Oakland middleweight, is slated to tackle Middleweight Edmondson in the semiwindup. This appearance will mark Peltier's first in Southern California for a time.

BASKETBALL, THE PEPPY WINTER SPORT

Basketball is distinct from most of the other popular sports, it was deliberately invented and did not gradually evolve. Dr. James Naismith of the University of Kansas is the originator of this great game, which closely rivals football as a major college sport.

The game has progressed and changed a great deal since its conception—the rules involving with it are great and since its conception it has been carried by the Y.M.C.A. to South America, China, Russia and other distant places.

Tale won the 1922 eastern intercollegiate basketball championship for the second year in a row. The Rocky Mountain, honors, and Idaho the Pacific Coast Conference title. Mississippi A. & M. won the title of college champion of the South.

For the third year in succession the service heroes, and the Kansas City High School team won the national intercollegiate championship. Pasaic High School of New Jersey continued its unbroken string of victories, started in the 1918-19 season, to 118 straight triumphs averaging 53 points per game!

MY FIVE GREATEST PITCHERS

BY HANS WAGNER

ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

Manager—John J. McGraw of New York.

Captain—Fred C. Clarke of Pittsburgh.

First base—George Sisler of St. Louis.

Second base—Kapoleon Lajoie of Philadelphia and Cleveland.

Shortstop—Bobby Wallace of the old St. Louis Browns.

Third base—Jimmy Collins of Boston.

Extra Infelder—Eddie Collins of Philadelphia and Chicago.

Left field—Fred Clarke of Pittsburgh.

Center field—Tris Speaker of Cleveland.

Right field—Ty Cobb of Detroit.

Extra Outfielder—Babe Ruth of New York.

Catcher—Johnny Kling of the Cubs, Roger Bresnahan of the Giants, Ray Schalk of the White Sox.

Pitchers—Walter Johnson of Washington, Christy Mathewson of the Giants, Grover Cleveland Alexander of the Cubs, Cy Young and Rube Waddell.

Pinch hitters—Sammy Strang and Ham Hyatt.

BY HANS WAGNER

In selecting Walter Johnson, Christy Mathewson, Grover Cleveland Alexander, Cy Young and Rube Waddell as the five greatest pitchers of all time I have the following reasons:

Walter Johnson deserves extra credit for the fact that he has lasted longer than any other pitcher that I recall, excepting Cy Young. They thought Johnson's terrible speed would kill him down, but it didn't. Johnson was strong personally and as a pitcher. He has the greatest assortment of curves in the world—but none Alex has a fast ball, medium ball, all of which he can throw half side-arm or overhand. What's more, he has a slow ball and raise curve which he uses under-handed.

Johnson had terrific speed and quick arm strength when he broke into the league. That slow pulled him through until he began to study the art of his job. Johnson soon got on the right track of pitching and developed a master of pitching and a master of control which enabled him to beat them up.

Johnson is the longest pitching arm in baseball. I think it is even longer than that of Rube Waddell. He has such a long reach that the other fellow used to say they were afraid of swinging hard for fear of hitting him on the fingers when he was turning loose his arm. That, of course, was just baseball joshing you know what I mean.

Johnson was always in shape and as crazy to win now as when he started. He knew how to mix them up. There is no chance to outguess him. He can make his fast ball sail in or out to the batter. The only one who could ever beat him off was Cy Young. That is why he was a great checker and a great player. I've seen him play at the same time as the other players and when call out your move on each board? I'll tell the world this Dutchman couldn't.

DETROIT DISPATCH
PORTLAND (Ore.) Jan. 8.—The court won the first case of the year and ruined the prospects of driving morphine business out of the city. Dr. S. Singh, a Hindu, was convicted in Federal Judge Bean's court after the jury had deliberated for twenty minutes.

Singh had discovered the method of extracting morphine from poppies and was the first to do so successfully. Negroes in the North were selling the tea as moonshine. Government agents discovered the tea and the patrons of the tea houses were among the best-known addicts.

the Federal Court in Tacoma and the case here yesterday was regarded by the government as a step to determine the course to be taken in stamping out this branch of the traffic.

The government charged Baba
Singh merely with the possession of the drug since it was not shown that he had the intent of and the agents came to the conclusion that he was making the tea for his own use.

It was brought out in the testimony in the case, however, that the Hindus bought the poppy chaff from the Bohemians for $2 a sack and that they could obtain two grams of morphine from every ounce of poppy chaff. The Bohemians were ignorant of the purpose to which the chaff was being put and charges against them were dropped by the government. It was brought out that they raised the poppies for the seed, which is used by bakers in the manufacture

HEAVY SEAS DELAY LINERS

Majestic, With Numerous Celebrities Aboard, Loses
Two Days in Fight With Gale

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—The White Star liner Majestic, which sailed from Southampton and Cherbourg on the fast line and was scheduled to arrive in New York today, has been delayed by the heavy gales and is not expected to dock until Thursday, forty-eight hours late.

Various reports today brought news that the big steamer had encountered a hundred miles gale and terrific seas on Saturday, Sunday and Monday, and was battling its way slowly toward New York at reduced speed. Limited to eight knots for twenty-four hours ended at noon Sunday, on Monday the vessel increased the rate to nineteen knots and arrived at Rockaway twenty-four and one-half knots. It probably will arrive in quarantine about 8 p.m.
Wednesday and will dock early Thursday.

Other steamers delayed by storms include the Laconia of the Cunard Line, the George Washington of the United States line, and the Conte Rosse of Lloyd's-Sabatti.

Heading the list of the dramatic way here aboard the Majestic is actor who is returning from a three-year absence abroad.

While playing in London, Mr.

PLANS LAID FOR DAM AT FLAGSTAFF

City and Santa Fe Need Increased Supply; Site Survey to be Made

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Jan. 8.—A representative of the Los Angeles engineering firm of Burns & McDonnell and Engineer Davenport of the Santa Fe state have been conferring with the city engineer for some regard to the site of a water-supply dam in Schultz Canyon. At that point an immense supply of pure water could be held, a supply badly needed by both the city and railroad company. The engineers have determined the location of the foundation for the dam. This will be settled by boring.

The Santa Fe not only supplies its own needs but also on the local supply for the Grand Canyon Hotel, a need of about 100,000 gallons a day, transported in tank cars about 100 miles. The only water source is El Dorado in Rowe's Well, distant about three miles, with a very small supply.
About half way down the Bright Irrigation Canal, between Orderville Springs. This would furnish an ample supply, but the water is rather alkaline and there would be a problem of about 2500 feet. At times water is brought to the canyon by the trainload from Del Rio Springs, north of Prescott, but its quality is not equal to that sought. The water while still longer and mainly hill. Water is a serious problem all along the Santa Fe's Arizona division. Yet if reservoirs were provided, the melting snows from the San Francisco Mountain peaks would furnish more water than needed, and of the purest sort.

here Friday to fill vacancies on the committee, and to map a campaign for $100,000 to complete the survey of water resources in his region. The association plans to have the survey ready to present to the next Legislature rather than wait for legislative appropriation. Engaging the services of the State Engineering Department which has conducted the survey thus far, found it necessary to spend $100,000 on the work, and it is proposed to raise the remainder of the fund by subscription.

The meeting will be followed by one Saturday of regional directors of the California State Farm Bureau, at which the campaign also will be considered.

STATE BANK CHIEF GOING TO CAPITAL

AIM OF TRIP TO CONFER ON BETTER WORKING PLAN FOR BRANCHES

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 8.—John F. Johnson, State Bank Superintendent, left here today for Washington, D. C., for a conference with the Comptroller of the Currency and representatives of the Federal Reserve Board relative to the branch banking situation in California.

Johnson declared that the purpose of the conference will be to bring about a better working agreement between the State and Federal authorities on the problem of branch banking.

According to Johnson, the State and Federal policies relative to branch banking do not exactly conflict, but he said they do not work as harmoniously as is desired by both the State and government officials.

Bagiak, who have been condemned to death as Soviet spies for their alleged conduct in the organization that has been charged with responsibility for the recent bombings at Cracow.

HE dawning of a new year bids us renew the vows of citizenship, and start again upon the knightly quest of ideals that make the world better for our having lived in it. No less chivalrous than "King Arthur and his Table Round" are those knights of today who have seriously at heart the welfare of their community, consecrating their services to it.

The dawning of 1924 sees a mighty crusade Westward bound,—thousands of men and women filling the avenues of traffic, their eyes fixed upon this Southland habitation of their dreams. While these travel-worn crusaders are wending their way Westward, the Knights of the new Alhambra are keeping faith, building into their community the institutions to stand the tests of a successful city.

With a population that has increased from 18,000 to 23,000 in the last twelve months, Alhambra has ridden at the head of her progress in her provisions to maintain the supremacy of her schools. With a new $350,000 high school building under construction, she has just passed with a vote of 8 to 1 another $600,000 bond issue to build the sixth building on her present high school campus, construct additions to her 8 grammar schools, and purchase an 18 acre site for another entirely new high school group.

The city owns and operates a 14-acre recreation park, ideally equipped with pools, courts and play apparatus, and provides funds for the professional supervision of summer recreation conducted under the auspices of the Federated P. T. A. and participated in by business men and organizations of the city in supplying trophies for the various contests. The city contributes to the support of a weekly Community Sing, while an active Pageant Association unites the youth of the city in the production of plays and pageants, and is fostering a civic art center.

For the profitable employment of the citizens, the city government and various civic organizations maintain free employment bureaus and the city has set aside 300 acres fully equipped through community effort with tracks and all utility service where worthy industries may provide a pay-roll which has mounted to $3,500,000 in the last year, and is increasing every month as new industries come in.

[4]

A city without a slum, Alhambra still takes the lead among cities of its size in caring for the less fortunate members of society. For 12 years the city has financed the work of the local Board of Charities, whose bounty, as that of the many social and fraternal organizations, has often extended outside the city limits. The Alhambra Health Center, with its free dental clinic and medical service, maintains a high health standard among the poorer citizens, and its educational work for mothers rescues hundreds of undernourished children every year.

With a municipal water supply that enlists enthusiastic comment from water analysts, and a most modern million dollar sewer system under construction, Alhambra has laid well the foundations of public sanitation. An active Health Department, well equipped with a laboratory, inspects regularly the city water and the food supplies at stores and restaurants, tests the milk and the water supply at all dairies, and makes sanitary surveys of the schools.

Alhambra's efficiency in preventing the spread of contagious diseases is evidenced by the fact that she suffered no epidemics last year. Strict quarantine laws are upheld by the Health Department, and pioneer work in mosquito control, together with the strictest supervision of all food, milk and water supplies, keeps Alhambra free of disease.

[7]

Nearly 50% of the men, women and children in Alhambra hold cards in her Public Library, an institution of which they are justly proud, containing nearly thirty thousand volumes and circulating last year 136,273 books, over 31% of those issued to adults being non-fiction. Aside from its average daily circulation of 444 books the library circulated hundreds of pamphlets and pictures, conducted public lectures, art and botanical exhibits, and maintained deposit libraries in all the city schools.

[8]

Alhambra's fire loss last year, with $6.33 per capita at risk, was only $1.09 per capita, 50 cents less than the year previous. The Fire Department this year, aside from materially increasing its equipment and staff, has established a Fire Prevention Bureau to reduce with the cooperation of the citizens, the fire hazards of the city. Alhambra's police system, with an efficient patrol and nightly watchman service for vacant houses, with an emergency man always on call and a Bureau of Identification to co-operate with other cities in the detection of criminals, makes life unusually safe on Alhambra streets.

DEATH COMES TO BROLSKSI

Checkered Career Ended for Politician

Served Prison Term and Was Pardoned

Was Redondo Beach Mayor at One Time

The sudden death yesterday at the Alexandria of Harry Brolski, for many years a figure in California politics, recalled an incident of a career singularly marked by the vicissitudes that often attend the life of a man in the public eye.

He was once Mayor of Redondo Beach and later identified with various political activities in San Francisco. Brolski died in December, 1922, after being indicted on a charge of conspiring to violate the prohibition laws and served a term at the Federal prison at Leavenworth, being released by Presidential pardon shortly before he came to Los Angeles less than a year ago.

DEATH NOT EXPECTED

While he had been ill for a long time, his death was unexpected. Dr. Walker of Tacoma, under whose care the former politician apparently had been making his stay at the local hospital, however, was uncertain as to the immediate cause of death but it is believed due to a general weakening of the system following several operations some months ago. Brolski was 54 years of age.

He was unmarried and is survived only by his mother, Mrs. Brolski, who was at her son's bedside when the end came. The body was removed to the underworld establishment of Pierce & Lowe.

Brolski was the author of "A Fool and His Money," his own version of how easy it is to fool the sucker and get him out of his wealth. Chicago and New York also knew Harry Brolski.

RAN HOG SYNDICATE

As promoter of the American Hog Syndicate, Brolski started a buy-a-hog campaign that drew in the Post Office Department and the Congressmen of the Committee.

In Chicago, in 1913, Brolski's first step into fame he conducted the Star Investment Company, a race-track stable scheme. Dividends were to be paid at definite stages. Brolski is said to have disappeared.

Brolski next appeared at the racetrack in 1914 with the announcement that he had formed.

He supported the anti-racetrack law and the red light abatement movement.

Brolski's career was marked by the spectacular. At San Francisco his bootlegging adventure centered on him the attention of the nation.

The conspiracy was one of the most amazing in history since the national dry law went into effect.

It was traced to the office of Mrs. Glad K. Warburton, Federal prohibition officer, and resulted in her discharge from the service. This indictment was dismissed some time ago.

At the time of the power inquiry Brolski was indicted at New York in motion-picture stock-selling scheme. His co-defendants in this were Antony Drexel, Jr., Elliot Norton, author and investor, and others of equal prominence.

IN BOOTLEG PLOT

Late in December, 1920, Brolski and Douglas Newton were indicted in connection with the bootleg conspiracy and were found guilty. Brolski was fined $1,000 and Newton $500. They were sentenced to serve terms of two years each in McNeil Island penitentiary. Before he completed his term Brolski contracted cancer and was removed to a hospital outside the penitentiary. Later, he was released, although he had not served his full term.

Brolski's first case before the public at Chicago as an agent for the Department of Justice. Late in 1919 he was elected mayor of Redondo and served for a term as chairman of the Republican County Central Committee of Los Angeles. In late 1920 he became a reformer and confined most of his energies to having been indicted seventeen times for various offenses.

Noted Composer Recovering From Serious Illness

Improvement in the condition of Carrie Jacobs Bond, noted composer, who has been ill for three weeks, was made known yesterday afternoon by her secretary, Miss Esther Fairbanks.

The seriousness of the composer's illness has been exaggerated, according to Miss Fairbanks.

"Mrs. Bond recently suffered a nervous breakdown as the result of overwork," said Miss Fairbanks. "She has been ordered by her physician, Dr. George Cole, to avoid strain and to remain quiet, to remain in bed except for one hour during the day when she is taken for a motor ride. Rest and quiet will be the best treatment," Dr. Cole said.

The illness of Mrs. Bond has necessitated cancellation of a number of public appearances, several of which were scheduled for last week in honor of "Carrie Jacobs Bond Week."

The composer will leave Los Angeles on the 19th and travel to New York where she will remain a month or two, depending on the rapidity with which she recuperates.

DEVELOPMENT PLANS FOR HAWAII OUTLINED

INT'L. F. NIGHT WINS!

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—Plans for development of the four main harbors of Hawaii were outlined to the House Rivers and Harbors Committee today by Gov. Farrington and Lyman H. Giggleon, superintendent of public works in the Territory. They urged particularly completion of the canal of Honolulu Harbor. Kalibau, who contended that such an improvement not only would be of commercial benefit, but would fit in with plans for defense of the Islands, was given the right to speak. The amount of $1,000,000 would be required to complete the channel. Of this amount $300,000 already has been allotted.

SLAYER TO BE RESENTENCED

John Hendrix Was Convicted of Murdering Pal

Killer in San Quentin Denied New Trial on Appeal

Return to San Diego Asked by District Attorney

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
SAN DIEGO, Jan. 8.—An order for the return from San Quentin prison to San Diego for resentencing of John Hendrix, convicted murderer of his friend, Thomas Keister, was issued today by District Attorney Chester Kempler.

Hendrix was denied a new trial, and as the death sentence was imposed before the passage of a State law in regard to delays in execution, the doomed man must be returned here to be resented. He will then be taken to San Quentin for the hanging.

Hendrix is said to have escaped Christianity since entering the prison, and to be a changed man from the desperate Kentuckian who killed his partner in their music store business in the shade in the mountains near Alpine, and then compelled his victim's widow to remain with him for day and night. His wife escaped, then walked through underbrush, and was rescued by passing motorists. Hendrix was captured shortly afterward. His trial resulted in a speedy conviction of first-degree murder.

REPORT SHOWS CRIME INCREASE IN PASADENA

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
PASADENA, Jan. 8.—That crime is increasing in Pasadena with alarming rapidity and that the Police Court handled more cases during the month of December, than ever before, was the report of Judge Dunham submitted to the City Directors this morning. The report stated 744 cases had been handled in the month which is 473 more than in the same month a year ago. A total of $585 in fines was collected within the month. Of this, $210 was paid by persons犯 of various violations of the Wright Act, and $320 from violators of the State Motor Vehicle Act. BAKERSFIELD, Jan. 8.—Trial of George D. Burton, held for the murder of Tom Kershaw, was begun this morning in Department Two of Superior Court with the summoning of a special venire from which to impanel a jury to hear testimony.

Burton is charged with having shot Kershaw near Buena Vista Lake in December, 1923. According to testimony taken during the preliminary examination, Burton, standing near his automobile, was approached by Kershaw, driving in a buggy. Kershaw was said to have been employed as a game warden by one of the shooting clubs near the lake. Further testimony taken during the Justice Court hearing was to the effect that Kershaw had stopped Burton and made a "pity" as if to search his car.

Burton, it is contended, objected to having his car searched and

Council Grants Right and Ends Fight Over Church for Japanese

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Jan. 8.—A squabble that has stirred various factions in Long Beach within the last year and which brought many residents here from every community in Southern California, was ended today. After a long fight, the City Council yesterday voted to end the fight over Japanese mission at Fourteenth street and Locust avenue. A change in the zoning law was necessary before the mission could be established.

Property owners, among them being several of the most prominent business men and society leaders of the community, were against the Japanese mission on the ground that they did not want the Japanese mission near their properties. The City Council, several months ago, voted to prohibit Japanese Synod of the Presbyterian Church, and threat of a suit on the validity of the city's zoning law finally was resolved.

NEW VOICE OF RADIO ON AIR

Oakland Station, KGO, Most Powerful on Coast

Sister to General Electric Plant at Schenectady

First Program Featured by Address of Governor

BY K. G. ORMSTON
The new voice of the Pacific Coast, the General Electric broadcasting station at Oakland, came on the air promptly at 8 o'clock last night and presented its formal opening program.

With a normal operating power of 1000 watts, the station is the most powerful in the West and a single station can cover the entire coast.

The station is equipped to use 4500 watts when desirable, and operates on a wave length of 113 meters.

The call letters are KGO.

The first four stations were silent for a period of fifteen minutes last night immediately after 8 o'clock, to give local fans a clear air to tune in KGO. The new broadcast came in strong and clear. The program opened with "The Star Spangled Banner" played by the KGO orchestra, followed by an invocation by Chairman W. R. Hall of the United States Navy.

Gov. Richardson addressed

Radioland and the program concluded with a number of instrumental music interspersed with addresses by Col. J. F. Dillon, radio supervisor of the sixth district, John L. Davis, mayor of Oakland, and several officials of the General Electric Company.

HEARD WELL HERE

This new station should be received well in the Southland through the local stations because of the short wave length used and the high power.

The evening program in The Times studio was presented through the courtesy of the Southern California Music Company and featured a number of distinguished artists in an excellently balanced program.

Homer Grun, pianist-composer, associated with a number of his own compositions, playing "California Idylls," "To the Sierras," and "Desert Adobe." The composer's thoughts were expressed in the interpretation of the Knabe in the artistic and distinctive interpretations.

Charles King, tenor, favored with two solo singing numbers by Curran and "The Star" by Rogers. He was accompanied by Margaret Wilson, and his songs carried a warmth of feeling and music.

LAYING CONTEST

One of the features of the show will be an egg-laying contest closing Sunday night when a prize of $100 will be awarded to the owner of the hen laying the most eggs in the six days that the show lasts.

Owing to the large attendance of poultrymen from all over the state and to the interest exhibited in Los Angeles, he said, the show, President Williams estimated, it will be the most successful ever put on in California.

THE PARTY TIES
It is all very well to talk about organizing a third party, but it may be lucky to run fifth in the voting. There are still a few Socialist, Labor and Prohibition parties for the benefit of the lonesome.

GOING WEST
A scientist asserts that ships and trains' everything weigh more when they are journeying west. That is another reason for the movement toward California. Even a prominent citizen may take on added weight on his westward journey.

A CHECK SUIT
A woman, who was described as wearing a check suit, has been making purchases in various department stores, with checks that had no funds behind them. Now she is being sued in court. The woman in the check suit is having her measure taken in this suit of checks.

THE PUNISHMENT
In England one man out of every two apprehended for murder is convicted and hanged. In this country 197 out of every 300 persons taken for homicide escape the death penalty. Possibly this is one reason why murders are so plentiful in America and so rare in England.

ARE HARD UP
It is possible that some of the Democratic orators are gurgling their throats preparatory to the delivery of cursing words over the administration's sale of ammunition to the Mexican government. They were suffering for an issue and may seek to dig something from this incident.

THE AUTO THIEVES
Purloiners of busswagons are not laying off this year. Right here in our home town they are snatching them off at the rate of twenty-five or thirty a day and seem to be genuinely anxious to excel the crooked record they achieved last year. Even a chattel mortgage is not strong enough to hold a car when they get their gills on it.

A WISE LADD
A Coolidge seems to have the political farmers eating out of his hand. He was a farm boy himself and understands the problems of the farm better than most of them. Now Senator Ladd, who represents the agrarian vote of North Dakota, has joined the Coolidge column in spite of a great friendship for Senator La Follette. That's the Ladd! Atta boy!

COST OF LIVING
One of the Justices of the New York Supreme Court resigns because of the difficulty he had in living on the salary of $17,500 a year which is attached to his office. A decision of the Supreme Court that this sum is inadequate to cope with the high cost of living is apt to be far-reaching in its results. There was once a day when this was thought to be a rather handsome figure, but when one is getting only nine miles on a gallon it seems pitifully incompetent.

PEACEFUL HENRY
Henry Ford says that the more automobiles there are in the world the less war there will be. But it amounts to much the same thing. What difference does it make to a man whether he runs down by a tin Lizzie or bowled over by a Big Bertha? Henry seeks to clinch his argument by the assertion that, as the nations of the earth take to the larger use of the busswagons, they will become better acquainted and all these social contacts will make for peace and better understandings.

TRACK GOSSEY
The railroads are said to have just concluded the busiest year in their history. The freight movement alone is thought to have exceeded 50,000,000 cars, and in the passenger department it has kept the off-stand on the jump to take care of the crowds headed for sun California. It will take a mighty big volume to record the traffic data of the year, so far as the steam rail ways are concerned. The motors and the electric may put them out of business some day, but the figures for 1923 find them very much with us—and still going strong.

FROM THE ASHES
Before the flames had cooled and even while the flames roared about them, the pioneers of Ocean Park stood ankle deep in the refreshing waters of the Pacific and vowed that the city of beauty and pleasure should be forthwith rebuilt on a grander scale. They watched their millions disappear in the fiery furnace and they pledged fresh millions to a magnificent program of restoration. Each year the flames claim a frightful toll in America, but no truly representative community was ever stunned to death by their visitation. So will it be with Ocean Park. Fires may chasten the body, but they cannot destroy the spirit. The brave and indomitable Ocean Parkers will make the phoenix look like a red-headed woodpecker.

THE BOB PEACE PLAN
Edward Bok, the philanthropist, in offering $100,000 for the most practicable peace plan, has benefited the world, whether the prize-winning plan proves to be immediately workable or not.

Once again the national feeling against the horrors and fatality of war has been aroused by this attempt to focus public opinion on the fact that peace is practical, and that public opinion is the one and the only power to make it so.

More than 22,000 essays were submitted from every class of the community and by every school of political and religious thought. If the essay that was awarded the prize proves anything it proves that through some form of international association, call it a League of Nations or what you will, war must be finally outlawed and arbitration by the pen succeed arbitration by the sword.

Public opinion in the mass, in spite of the difficulty to bring it to bear in individual issues, is preponderantly and whole-heartedly on the moral side of every question. It may be temporarily blinded by appeals to prejudice or dazzled by the vision of national glory, but the sober second thought of American men and women, taken collectively, will always be, in the long run, for what is square, for what is decent, for what is true and for what is moral.

On the question of settling international disputes public opinion in America is, for this very reason, when afforded the chance of recording a cool and deliberate verdict, overwhelmingly opposed to the old method.

A nation that long ago outlawed the duel for the settlement of personal quarrels could not consistently endorse fire and sword to decide quarrels between nations.

War is simply the private duel multiplied by a million. If the private duel is immoral and illegal, how can its projection into the million duels of war change it into something noble and elevating?

Edward Bok has afforded the people of the United States an opportunity to record a cool and deliberate verdict on a feasible plan for abolishing war. The time for such a judgment is ripe now than while the people were still suffering from the stress and ferment of the discussions and disagreements following the signing of the armistice.

TRY THIS ON YOUR FARM

The French Ministry of Agriculture recently instituted inquiry to learn how many French farmer families have lived on the same land longer than three centuries.

To people who move about as much as we restless Americans that seems astonishing. We are likely to wonder if they found any such families.

Up to date they have found 750, a high percentage of which regard people who have lived in the same place a mere 300 years as comparative newcomers. The latest number of L'Illustration to reach this coast contains a full-page picture of Pierre Lafarge, the champion old resident.

Lafarge is the present head of a family which has made the same farm do its part toward feeding mankind since 772 A.D.

That record becomes the more wonderful when one thinks of all the turmoil and vicissitudes through which France has passed the last 1152 years. It also reveals something of the constancy of French character and the passionate love of home which has made that country weather so many storms.

The French farmers have not robbed the soil in one place and then passed on to more fertile fields. It is significant that their government has seen fit to honor with certificates only those who have tillied and enriched the soil in one place for more than three centuries, as otherwise the honest would be too common to be valuable.

A well-known writer tells of a little pony in what had been the town of Montidier, but that was a heap of war relics. He had just been demobilized, after five years' military service, and was still in uniform, as he had no money to buy other clothes. He had come back to the heap of bricks and mortar which had been his comfortable home and, with such mortar as he could make from crumbled cement and mud and water, was trying to patch up one room of the eight which had been there, so it would keep out some of the weather. And he was whistling hopefully as he went about it.

"As soon as I have a roof for them," he said, "I will look for my family. They had to leave so suddenly, with other refugees, that they have been lost to me for four years. I came here hoping to find trace—but now there are no inhabitants to tell me anything. Tomorrow I start my search."

All about was desolation. It was hard to see how one could make a living there.

"You will bring them back here!" he was asked.

"Of course," he said, simply. "It was my father's home, and his father's, and his father's, and so on. What other place could be the same?"

Surface troubles may come and go, but a country blessed with such love of home as that must have enduring foundations.

MID-WEST ALARMED

A strange new cry of complaint has come out of the Middle West. The Panama Canal threatens to revolutionize economic conditions throughout the United States through the operation of the cheaper all-water haul.

Shippers of the Middle West are losing trade, witnesses declared before the Interstate Commerce Commission, by reason of their being unable to meet the competitive rates of carriers using the Panama Canal.

Some complainants see the time coming when the cities and States on the Pacific and Atlantic seaboard will absorb the bulk of the population on account of the more extensive trade opportunities and the lower cost of living due to lower freight rates, thus eventually robbing the great centers, like Chicago and St. Louis, of their present transportation importance.

While the Panama Canal has been a big factor in the rapid development of the Pacific Coast it will not permanently injure the growth or restrict the commerce of the great productive Middle West. The State is capable of sustaining many times its present population. There is room for everybody. Every section has its individual advantages and products which are sure to progress with the growing genius of the American people.

At the same time economic conditions are such that the growth of the Pacific Coast States is bound to exceed that of any other section of the country for the rest of the present century. The reasons for this are many. The Atlantic Coast had a century

DESERT GRAVEYARDS

BY WILLARD S. WOOD

A little desert newspaper, the Eldorado Miner, once printed a poem of eleven stanzas, entitled "The Outcasts of Eldorado." They announced that it was written by one "who has devoted a life-long interest to our district," but the author was content to hide behind the anonymity of initials. A great deal of very much worse poetry has been printed in metropolitan newspapers, and the first two stanzas painted a real picture of that loneliness of places, a desert graveyard.

They ran as follows:

"On a narrow strip of mesa, by the Colorado's shore, Just above the tide stamp mill and the Indian trading store, Desolate and decorated by the roving burro's tread. Low the ground, the word of the outcasts, and the unburied dead.

"Over their clay, no fulsome tablet panders to putridous fame. No enduring stone preserves the outlines of the fallen, the bright leaves faded in the sun. It is a beautiful place, there are few soft beds in such a place, sleep in such a place, Warner Red almost-formless, Spanish trail, the columns of the great Butterfield stage between St. Louis and San Fran stretching down to the pitiful wastes of the Old West. These are graves where the dead took root and died now."

a bone. But, on the reverse side of the board, the sardonic wits mentioned two words that have been deeply burned into the surface. The hand of a great whale barrel, and the only clue to the identity of the sleeper there now remains is "Old Bourbon," which is charred into the tough wood.

THE GIRL WHO DIED

There is a grave down at Twenty-nine Palms, an unmarked one. They say that a girl is buried there. Her people had taken her to the mining camp at Virgin Dale in hope of finding her health or her tuberculosis, but she grew worse, and as they were carrying her back to the city, she died at Twenty-nine Palms. There are no headstones two gigantic palm trees rise at the head of the grave. The tall columns of the palms rise almost sixty feet in air and at the summits the feathered, green, bright leaves flash in the sun. It is a beautiful place to sleep in, for so few are there as sleep in such a place.

Hot Springs almost-formerly route of the Spanish Trail. That trail became in part the course of the great Butterfield stage line between St. Louis and San Francisco stretches down to the pitiful wastes of the Colorado. There are graves along its way. Death took toll of travelers single and double.

The deserts, swamps, mountains, and just where the trail went, the roads were of dirt, and the country can come into the valley.

At desolate Vallecito is the last marble headstone erected by John Hart in 1867. "Beloved wife, treasured in death" are carved words read in the stone, and below, "Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God." There is no other stone at Vallecito for the stones on the other graves at Vallecito are the rough pine stumps that protected the sleepers from the ghoulish coyotes.

THE SHERIFF'S VICTIM

At Carrizo station, farther down the old trail, there are many graves, for they say the deadly epidemic once overtaken many a traveler who encamped en route to California.

Almost half the entire party was buried hastily in shallow, marked graves.

There, for many years, a rusty carved granite slab commemorating the death of a sheriff of Yuma county, who, armed and afoot, he started to when the officer placed him under arrest for horse stealing.

There is a ghastly and forbidding graveyard, a sort of tangled mess, not a bush, not a stone, one blade of grass grows on it.

Not all the rains of a million have been sufficient to leach potent poisons from their clay.

Let any seed take root there,

look at the first hand

spatula you lay upon it, and the cone of what was once its bottom cracked and under the sun.

TOMBSTONE'S DISCOVERY

Probably it doesn't make a deal of difference where a man is buried, but I think, nevertheless, that Ed Schieffelin, discovered the great camp of Tombstone more for the sake of his horses than for his health. Another man I know of, more than forty years ago Schieffelin was a prospector. He had friends he was going to town toward the Mexican border, the heart of the Apache and the Apaches were at that time.

His friends tried to dissuade him. "The only place you'll find down there will be tombstone," they told him. Schieffelin went. At nearly death of him found a vein of silver. He remembered what his friends had said and turned to the new camp. Tombstone became one of the most mining towns in the West and Schieffelin was famous among miners the world over.

Years afterward, when Schieffelin died, they brought his body to the scene of his greatest triumph. The scene of his greatest triumph, the River, to Tombstone, on the way to the summit of a low hill looks toward Tombstone. It weathered granite boulders scattered upon it, and among rises a massive monument made of the native rocks.

That is the final resting place, on the very spot where he died, where he camped on the night of his great discovery.

He is longer watched, but more in peace. And, if he could be must be very wonderful to be in the very spot where he died came true.

AIN'T IT JUST SO?

Are we to have no tradition? Aint? There was a time when took and cherished traditions. Hand them down to their children, and their children's children, and their children's children. Score of years of building up the movie traditions, we are asking to give them a little more time.

For example: What might happen if you have no Will? What legal formalities, delays and annoyances might occur in the settling of your affairs?

You can protect the future welfare of your family and anticipate the problems that may arise after you are gone by making your Will and naming Title Insurance and Trust Company as your Executor and Trustee.

AUTO SUSPECTS CAUGHT IN NET

Fifty-six Persons Are Held Within City

Recovery of Cars Reach New High Total

Results of an intensified campaign against automobile thieves in which 200 members of the Crime Crushers' division, sixty speed officers and twelve detectives, men mobilized were made public yesterday by Chief of Police Vollmer. The drive was initiated on December 27, 1923. It is still continuing.

In the ten-day period ending Monday night, Chief Vollmer stated, 55 officers detailed to work exclusively in recovering stolen motor cars, and apprehending thieves whom have restored to their owners 255 machines.

SUSPECTS TAKEN

In the same period may have arrested 200 suspected automobile thieves in the city and caused the arrest of nineteen others outside of the city. The total number of cases within the city was 212. Chief Vollmer stated, showing that recoveries exceeded thefts for the first time in recent years.

The operation of the special squad has extended to all sections of California and also outside of the State. Chief Vollmer said. Three of the suspects he stated, were arrested in Oakland, three in Salt Lake City, two in Salinas, six in Tucson and one at Prescott, Ariz. These arrests were all made in the interests of the local officials. In addition they also arrested eight suspected automobile thieves whom they are holding for extradition in other States.

STATIONED AT BORDER

Members of the special squad, he said, are stationed at all the border towns to check on automobiles headed toward Los Angeles which are known to be the chief strategic points along roads about Los Angeles to make a further check on motor cars.

The work which has attended the campaign has been exceptionally noteworthy, Chief Vollmer declared. He pointed out that in the month of November but 281 cars were recovered in the 24 agencies although a total of 555 were stolen. From December 1, to December 29, 1923, 400 machines were taken.

Woman's Club to Conduct Auction

Women through all time have favored auction, but now for the first time a club of women is to have one. The Woman's Club of Lankershim is to have a public auction Saturday afternoon this week, and the fine old home is to be offered to the highest bidder. The house was given to the club for a home by a wealthy friend, but it did not suit his requirements, and so it is to be auctioned off. The club has purchased two fine lots a short distance from where the house now stands, and the money realized from this sale will be used toward erecting a new clubhouse. The house must be moved from the property where it now stands, and this day, as the property has been sold.

SCHUMANN PIANOS

Victrolas—
at The Broadway

"This One Thing We Do—And Well!"

YOUR choice of a fine piano should be guided by your individual requirements. No one piano can be universally preferred, because opinions as to what such a piano should be, naturally differ.

But the mere fact that the SCHUMANN piano has been built since 1847 with no other idea than to produce an instrument of which the makers could be proud, immediately places the SCHUMANN among those instruments deserving of consideration.

This piano, following the same principles which impart to the violin a tonal quality, rich, mellow and clear, is built entirely within one factory—supervised through every step. No other instrument is produced there. This concentration on one piano and one alone means that every individual instrument must meet every requirement.

See the SCHUMANN—hear it! Remember it is the product of artisans and craftsmen who forever hold to their faith—"this one thing we do—and well!"

Ideal for families of two

By MARY CLEWELL

IN an apartment one couldn't ask for anything better than a LUNDIN-LEAF library-diner. During the day, it is a beautiful library table; at night, it opens for dinner so easily. Just spread the top and swing the hidden leaves into place.

For two, one leaf is enough. When company comes, there is lots of room for six—even eight.

Leaves do not stick or refuse to join on the LUNDIN-LEAF. They are hand fitted and matched; protected against warping because they're always in the dining room. Your dining table should be a LUNDIN-LEAF. Finished in mahogany and walnut with Queen Anne, Italian, Cross-well and Windsor period designs.

Look for the LUNDIN-LEAF name in every table. It's a guarantee of honest workmanship and mechanical perfection.

If the furniture stores in your town do not yet display a full showing of LUNDIN-LEAF tables and dining suites, send for our booklet of beautiful designs.

FLASHES*"WOMAN ON JURY"*FIRST NATIONAL WILD FILM FAMED PLAY*By Grace Kingley

One of the most important productions ever made by First National will be a film version of "The Woman on the Jury," to be directed by Harry Hoyt, according to announcement sent out by officials yesterday.

Sylvia Breamer, it is understood, will have the leading feminine role—doubtless because of her beauty and acting ability, though as at least a dozen actresses were interviewed for the exacting role, calling for strong emotional power.

Miss Breamer was originally chosen. Here is the role Mary Newcomb created on the stage in the New York production last season.

Another important role, that of a flapper, has been assigned to Grace Gordon, who is almost a newcomer on the screen, but whom Mr. Hoyt considers fine. Gordon as Topsy in "The Gold Diggers" at the Morosco, that he decided she was just the actress for the part.

The cast of the film will be announced within a few days, and Mr. Hoyt states the members will be carefully chosen for their objective roles.

Harry Hoyt, formerly directed for the World Film Company, afterward being connected with certain independent productions of which the best known perhaps is "The Rider of the Purple Sage." Hoyt has had much experience as a writer, his latest triumph being "Flaming Youth." He has just finished the script of "The Perjured Flapper," which will be Colleen Moore's picture, with Jack Dillon directing, and which promises to establish Miss Moore in this line of flapper parts, following her success in "Puritan" and "The Wild Girl," showing a second week at Loew's.

Work on "The Woman on the Jury" starts January 14, with most of the scenes interior, to be made at United Artists' lot, while outdoor scenes are already in course of construction.

Exteriors will be filmed at the San Diego aviation and racing tracks, and some scenes will be used, and other scenes will be made in the mountains somewhere near here.

Wilkes Shows Prosper

It looks as though Thomas Wilkes must own a whole flock of horse-shoes and an acre of four-square land, for the way his shows are going over.

Telegraphic communication received from Wilkes, who is now in Chicago, says that "Tom and Eva," with the irrepressible Danvers in the name roles, has swept to tumultuous success.

John C. Danvers, who while in Chicago is suffering from a cold, has played to capacity business in the Selwyn Theater.

Newspaper critics have praised both of the Duncans and the play, and every induction points to a long run in Chicago.

At the same time "The Virginian" with Taylor Holmes in the leading role, broke house records at the Sam H. Harris Theater.

Margaret Lawrence, at the Magritte here, will close her engagement in "Secrets" at the end of next week, and will be seen again in the 20th century musical "His Arms." This is the first of a series of premières that Wilkes has arranged, and while Miss Lawrence will be presented by arrangement with Sam Harris.

Franklin Pangborn, former Magritte, is appearing in "The Fine Arts" and Vernon Steele, now appearing with Ruby Miller, famous London actress, at the Fine Arts Theater as "Tiger, Tiger."

Others in the cast will be Barbara Brown, Mrs. Thomas Kavanaugh, Mrs. Van Rensselaer, Little Lulu, Irene, Eleanor Parker and Richard Pickett.

Mr. Baechtold leaves Jan. 10 for the Orient, and his wife, Dr. Charlotte Baechtold, his mother, Mrs. J. J. Baechtold, and Mrs. Charles B. Forrester, Ky., two of his former marriage, are accompanying him.

The services at the coast of an old man, Commander George Prentiss, a solo, "Lead, Kindly Light," and an invocation of the command of St. W. Wheeler, pastor of the Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Deardo, widow of the late Mrs. Deardo, will be buried at the Forest Lawn Cemetery.

Funeral services will be held at 10:30 a.m. today at Deardo's chapel for 75 years of life.

Her niece, Mrs. Emma Deardo, was 75 years ago.

Mrs. Deardo was found dead in the Los Angeles home of a woman, Mrs. Wilma, who is a widow.

The services at the coast of an old man, Commander George Prentiss, a solo, "Lead, Kindly Light," and an invocation of the command of St. W. Wheeler, pastor of the Forest Lawn Cemetery.

TEN INJURED IN COLLISION

Two Street Cars Crash Into Heavy Truck on Track
Causing Panic Among Passengers

A twelve-ton dump truck parked itself squarely between two street cars at the intersection of McClintock street and Thirty-sixth Place, yesterday, causing a spectacular collision in which ten persons were injured.

The huge truck was struck amidships by street car No. 161, which was in charge of Motorman J. J. Smith of 5416 South Main street and was traveling south on McClintock street. It was hurled part way around and struck car No. 166, not far from the intersection of Harvard and Louis streets, stricken, it is reported, in the rear.

FLEW TO FLOOR.—Passenger in both cars were flung forward by the impact and were deposited in a mass toward the front of each car. A minor panic broke out, but was quickly subsided. The driver of street car No. 161, Alward of 1447 West Sixty-ninth street, was flung to the ground by the impact, but escaped without injury. The front of the street car was heavily loaded and this accounted for the small number of injured.

Motorman Smith was the most severely injured. The front of the street car he was piloting was demolished and he suffered a fractured back and cuts and bruises on the face, neck and head. Motorman C. H. Cummings of car No. 166 escaped without injury.

Others hurt in the collision are: Leslie Black, 17 years of age, 1116 West Fifty-sixth street, wrenched back and contusions.

TAKEN TO HOMES.—Others hurt were: F. Sullivan, 47, 946 Menlo avenue, abrasions and contusions.

Zella and Lucille Facciun, 3628 Cypress street, cuts and abrasions and shock.

Mrs. Mabel Baller, 45, 1834 West Thirty-seventh Place, cuts and bruises.

Mrs. George Parks, 37, 1523 Orange street, contusions and cuts.

Miss Ethel Pease, 22, 1962 Wisconsin street, cuts and bruises.

The injured were treated at the Hospital and the majority removed to their homes.

COURT UNMOVED BY
MOSAIC-LAW PLEA

Joe Chaves told Police Judge Richardson yesterday that he felt perfectly justified in stealing a tire from another man's car since someone had stolen a tire from his car. The judge, however, refused to carry the Missouri Law of an eye for an eye and tooth for a tooth a little too far. He gave Chaves the choice of paying a fine of $300 or going to jail for 180 days. Chaves calmly pulled a large roll of bills from his pocket, stripped $300 from the roll, presented it to the clerk and walked out.

ACCUSED OF EXTORTION

Sommer's Leader Indicates Six-Month Campaign is Abandoned

Change of Attitude Thought Due to Recent Loss of Support

BY WALTER ROBB
(By Radio—Exclusive Dispatch)

MANILA, P. I., Jan. 9.—The end of the feud between Gov. Gen.

and Manuel Quezon was seen in the latter's announcement that the Senate would approve the wood budget this afternoon.

The budget, which had been submitted by Gen. Wood at the opening session of the Legislature last October, this body, however, refused to consider the budget at the instigation of Quezon, who is President of the Senate.

In his announcement today Quezon said that there would be very changes in the budget as prepared by Gen. Wood.

Quezon also gave assurance that the budget will be readjusted in the Senate.

Wood addressed to POLICE

in an address today to the American Chamber of Commerce, declared he would not yield to the Jones law and would stand by his position.

Quezon, in the fight in the Senate, including many of the prominent men,

said that although he won special election in September
